Summary: Peter Murray goes to Koholint Island and has to return to the land of the awake!

Chapter 1*: Pete's Awakening

Peter Murray AKA Pete was braving the high seas in the middle of a storm. He tried to balance himself but the winds were stronger than ever tonight. Dark clouds hung over him and raindrops assaulted him from all directions.

"Mommy I'm scared," said Pete. And that was the last thing he said before a bolt of lightning descended from the heavens and struck Pete's little boat!

Pete drifted off into unconsciousness and when he woke up he was in a comfy bed and some girl was looking down at him.

"Oh thank goodness you're awake," she said.

"Bugger off, gimme five more minutes," said Pete because she wasn't his mother.

The girl threw Pete out. Pete was miffed that he got thrown out so he smoked some cigarettes. Now he had to figure out where he was.

He decided to go into the forest but there was grass and rocks in his way, but that was no problem for Peter Murray, who had incredible strength, so he just picked them up and threw them away.

"Hey look it's a human!" shouted a giant goblin creature.

"Kill him!" said an octopus!

And they all surrounded Pete with dangerous weapons pointed at him but Pete punched them and they cried "uncle".

After the fight Pete noticed some ruins and he went inside. He found a mural that said "Koholint Island is a dream it's not real."

"Wait so this is all just a dream?" said Pete. "Worst plot twist ever!"

Pete decided to go wake the Wind Fish so he could wake up.

But then he did not do that because his vision started to fade! What was happening!

"Pete, wake up!" someone shouted. So Pete opened his eyes and he was in the middle of the sea again, and John Phoenix was there, slapping him awake.

"Thanks for wakin' me up Johnny," said Pete.

And that was Pete's Awakening!

The End!
